AT YOUR LIBRARY

It is Summer Reading Challenge time!

TIMELINE - The Challenge started on May 28th and will continue through July 28th. All reading logs must be turned in by July 29th.

SIMPLE LOGGING METHOD! – For each day you read, all you have to do is record that you read. That’s it. Really! Any amount of reading counts. Simply log that you read in the Beanstack App or check off the day on the paper calendar logs. We are not requiring a certain number of minutes, pages, or books. We simply want you to read.

PERSONALIZE THE CHALLENGE – Set your own reading goals this summer. Each kid, teen and adult can have a different reading goal that suits them.

AND DON’T WORRY – Did you forget to log your daily reading during the fun of a vacation trip? Simply change the date in the Beanstack App to log reading on those past dates.

HOW LONG IS YOUR STREAK?! – Challenge yourself to see how many days you can read in a row this summer. (And even beyond! Did you know that you can track daily reading in the Beanstack App even when we don’t have an official library challenge happening?)

FUN PRIZES – Everyone who reads gets to pick prizes from the Bookcart of Lil’ Goodies during the summer. Want a chance to win an awesome final prize?! You just need to complete the reading challenge.

SIDE QUEST (ages 0-15) - Each event you attend earns you “carnival tickets” to use at the Finale Party on August 2nd. Save them up all summer long and trade them in for small prizes at the Finale Party!

The Summer Reading Challenge is available in the Beanstack App and on paper logs now.
